

ARTS FOR SOCIAL CHANGE CAMPS AT CAV

presented by Infinite Spectrum Productions

The Arts for Social Change Acting Camp at CAV is an intensive actor's workshop for youth ages 13-18 designed to develop acting technique and leadership skills in talented youth. Over the course of each four week session young actors will explore a variety of acting methods and learn skills in public speaking and group facilitation. Upon completion of the camp, participants will be equipped with the tools necessary to effectively use their art to address issues of social relevance with their peers in a performance troupe setting. This camp is a process oriented experience focused on the discipline of acting and we do welcome participants of all skill levels. Tuition is $600 for each session.

Writing for Stage and Screen is a writers workshop for youth ages 13-18 designed to introduce the basic elements of story, character and dialogue while exploring the similarities and differences of writing for stage and screen. Tuition is $150 for this one week class.
